CONTRIBUTION RECOMMENDATIONS

> The following table summarizes the contribution recommendations for the Department and the members for the various Funds. No contribution changes are recommended in this valuation:

| | | Members | | |
|-----------------------------------|--|-----------------|-------------------------|--|
| | Department | Active | Retired and Disabled | |
| Family Death Benefit | Suspended | N/A | N/A | |
| Supplemental Family Death Benefit | N/A | $2.25 biweekly | $4.90 monthly | |
| Insured Lives: | | | | |
| Contributing | Suspended | $1.00 biweekly | N/A | |
| Noncontributing | $1.30 per $100 of monthly retirement benefit | N/A | N/A | |

➤ We have changed the assumed earnings rate to 5.0% for the combined funds. This 5% recommended return assumption is consistent with the assumption currently used by the Board for the Disability Fund, which are invested in similar assets. The estimated earnings rate for the combined fund over the past year was 4.4%. We will continue to monitor the return assumption in future years.

A. INTRODUCTION

The Family Death Benefit Allowance program was adopted under Resolution No. 470 dated December 19, 1963. The initial benefit was a monthly allowance payable to the surviving spouse of a member with minor children and was equal to $95 plus $96 for each minor child up to a maximum monthly allowance of $254. The individual's benefit was increased to $120 and the family maximum was increased to $340 as of July 1, 1969. After 1989, these benefit levels were increased to $160 and $450 respectively. On February 18, 2003, the individual's benefit was raised from $160 to $416 and the family maximum was raised from $450 to $1,170. The increases were applied retroactively to July 1, 2001.

The Department pays the entire cost of the Family Death Benefit Allowance program. Due to the size of the general reserve, contributions have been temporarily suspended since January 1, 1993. A history of contribution rates for this Fund is displayed in Section 4, Exhibit I. The Supplemental Family Death Benefit Allowance plan was adopted effective September 7, 1981. A monthly allowance of $200 was provided to each surviving spouse or child, subject to a maximum of $410 per family. On February 18, 2003, the monthly allowance was raised to $520 for each surviving spouse or child, in addition to the amounts payable from the Family Death Benefit Allowance Fund, subject to a maximum of $1,066 for the total of additional allowances. The increases were also applied retroactively to July 1, 2001.

Participation in the supplemental plan is optional and subject to member contributions. Please see Section 4, Exhibit I for a history of contribution rates. The Department will only contribute as necessary to fund the benefit.

Under the funding method for the Family Death Benefit Allowance program and the Supplemental Family Death Benefit Allowance program, the total annual contribution is equal to the expected incurred claims for the coming year. This is the same method used for disability benefits and for the other death benefits. Under the funding method, no additional contributions are expected to accumulate to help cover future claims beyond those incurred during the forthcoming year.

B. REVIEW OF EXPERIENCE AND RECOMMENDATIONS

The attached charts show a summary of the cost of the Family Death Benefit Allowance Fund and the Supplemental Family Death Benefit Allowance Fund from the inception of the plans to June 30, 2005.

In the early years of the operation of the Family Death Benefit Allowance, the Department contribution rate was somewhat low. For this reason, a deficit in the contribution account gradually accumulated. Also, the extension of the $120 benefit level in 1969 to current recipients temporarily compounded the deficit and produced abnormally high costs per member. To reverse these trends, a $3.00 contribution rate was adopted in 1973 but was decreased to $2.50 in 1981. Since that time, substantial reserves have been built up so that contributions were suspended in 1993.

The experience table on page 4 shows the cumulative monthly cost per member since 1970. In years 1970 through 1989 the Family Death Benefit level was $120. After 1989, the benefit level increased to $160. On February 18, 2003, the benefit level was increased to $416 per person, subject to a maximum of $1,170 per family. The increase was retroactive to July 1, 2001. The current cumulative experience in the table has been adjusted as if the benefit had always been $416. The cumulative cost since 1970 is now $5.33. Although contributions are currently suspended, the most recent Department contribution rate of $2.50 would support an individual Family Death Benefit of about $195.

CHART 1
Family Death Benefit and Supplemental Family Death Benefit Allowance Fund

| | June 30, 2005 | June 30, 2004 |
|--|---------------|---------------|
| Family Death Benefit | | |
| Reserve for allowances granted | 2,052,007 | 2,201,195 |
| Contribution account and general reserve | 6,368,082 | 6,359,890 |
| Subtotal | $8,420,089 | $8,561,085 |
| Supplemental Family Death Benefit | | |
| Reserve for allowances granted | (127,169) | (64,039) |
| Contribution account and general reserve | 3,995,966 | 3,614,809 |
| Subtotal | $3,868,797 | $3,550,770 |
| Family Death Benefit and Supplemental Family Death Benefit | | |
| Reserve for allowances granted | 1,924,838 | 2,137,156 |
| Contribution account and general reserve | 10,364,048 | 9,974,699 |
| Grand Total | $12,288,886 | $12,111,855 |

For the Family Death Benefit Allowance program, the Plan's funding goal is to have 20% of the reserve for allowances granted, or $410,401 (20% of $2,052,007), in the contribution account and general reserve. The actual contribution account and general reserve of $6,368,082 is more than our target but may start to decrease because the Department contribution has been suspended.

The experience for the Supplemental Family Death Benefit Allowance Fund also is shown in this report. A stable long-term cost of this benefit has yet to establish itself, but so far the cost of this benefit has been less than expected. Thus, on the basis of the experience of the fund, the contribution rate for the Supplemental Family Death Benefit Allowance Fund does appear to be greater than the cost of the benefit. We will continue to monitor this in future valuations.

Thus, we recommend that the Department do the following:

- 1. Continue to suspend Department contributions to the Family Death Benefit Allowance Fund. The surplus is large enough to justify a continuation of the contribution holiday.
- 2. Maintain the employee contribution rate to the Supplemental Family Death Benefit Allowance Fund. No Department contribution is necessary at this time.

SECTION 3: Insured Lives Portion of the Death Benefit Fund

A. INTRODUCTION

The funding of the Insured Lives Portion of the Death Benefit is similar to that of the Family Death Benefit allowances, with the following two exceptions:

- Unlike the Family Death Benefit payments, which may extend over future years, lump sum death benefits are settled promptly. Thus for lump sum death benefits there is little need for claim reserves, and the incurred claims for a year are taken to be the amount of paid claims.
- 2. Only retirees are covered for noncontributing death benefits, so the cost is paid by the Department as a monthly dollar charge per retiree per $100 of retirement benefits.

As with the Family Death Benefit allowances, costs do not include any amounts to build up reserves for future claims; hence, if contributions were terminated in the future, the fund would not be sufficient to cover all future claims. A small claims reserve is needed to account for potential lag time in processing current benefit payouts.

B. INSURED LIVES DEATH BENEFITS FOR CONTRIBUTING ACTIVE MEMBERS

Upon the death of an active member before retirement, the beneficiary receives the deceased member's accumulated contribution from the Retirement Fund, plus a benefit payable from this Death Benefit Fund in an amount equal to 14 times the member's monthly salary (or $1,000, if greater).

Currently department contributions are suspended. Please see Section 4, Exhibit I for a history of contribution rates.

In Chart 4 that follows, we summarize the cost of the salary related death benefit before retirement for the last 10 fiscal years.

The average annual rate of total cost of 29 cents per $100 of covered compensation in Chart 4 does not take into account the amount of interest earnings on the Death Benefit Fund general reserve. The expected interest earnings credited to the Contributing Members' Reserve for the next fiscal year amounts to approximately 8 cents per $100 of covered compensation (assuming an 5% investment return). After taking the interest credit into account, the net average cost of the past 10 years equals 21 cents per $100 of covered compensation as compared with the total contribution of zero cents per $100 of covered compensation currently paid into the fund.

We recommend that the general reserve target be the average of the benefits paid for the last five years, or $1,499,438. The actual reserve as of June 30, 2005 was $9,086,936, higher than the target.

We recommend that the total Department contribution to the Contributory Death Benefit Fund continue to be suspended until the general reserve is reduced to the target level.

C. INSURED LIVES DEATH BENEFITS FOR NONCONTRIBUTING (RETIRED AND DISABLED) MEMBERS

In September 26, 1963, the Plan began providing for a benefit payable on the death of a retired member equal to 14 times the retired member's unmodified retirement allowance, with a minimum death benefit of $2,000 (subsequently changed to $3,000 if eligible for the minimum pension) and a maximum death benefit of $10,000. Note that only retired members are covered, not spouses and beneficiaries. Contributions were increased as of July 1, 1973 to cover the entire cost of the benefits, and $2,598,912 was transferred from the General Reserve – Contributing Members to the General Reserve – Noncontributing Members. The Plan was amended in December 1980 to provide a maximum death benefit of $20,000. A history of contribution rates is given in Section 4, Exhibit I.

In Chart 5 that follows, we summarize recent costs of the retirees' death benefit.

The monthly experience rate for 2005 was $1.75. The monthly experience rates do not take into account the amount of interest earned on the Death Benefit fund. Interest expected to be earned on the Noncontributing Members' Reserve for the next year is $421,724 (assuming an 5% investment return). This is equal to 14 cents per $100 of retired member payroll. After taking the interest credit into account, the net rate for 2005 amounts to $1.61 per $100 of retired payroll.

The previous report recommended that the reserve target be equal to the average death benefits for the last five years, which is $5,063,082. The reserve amount is currently $8,434,473.

If we further adjust the Department contributions so as to reduce the general reserves to the target level over a period of ten years, then Department contributions to the Noncontributing Death Benefit would decrease to $1.53 per $100 of retirement benefits actually paid. However, this cost would be expected to increase each year until the target level of reserve is achieved.

We recommend that the Department contributions to the noncontributing Death Benefits be maintained at the rate of $1.30. This contribution rate is 31 cents lower than the monthly experience rate for 2005, after netting out the interest credit. By contributing this lower rate, we expect the surplus reserve to decrease to the target reserve in about four years.
